HMSHost and the Gerber Group Open Stone Rose Bar & Grill at JFK's Delta Terminal

Stylish new lounge is serving travelers in Delta Air Lines' Terminal 3

BETHESDA, MD – New York travelers are enjoying the new Stone Rose Bar & Grill, an upscale bar and lounge in Delta's Terminal 3 at John F. Kennedy International Airport (JFK). HMSHost, a world leader in travel dining and shopping, recently opened this first-ever airport property with nightlife entrepreneurs Rande Gerber and Scott Gerber, founders of the Gerber Group and developers of internationally acclaimed restaurants, lounges and bars.

“At Delta, we are committed to providing our customers with choice and convenience when they travel, including a wide array of airport dining options and upscale new brands designed to enhance their experience,” said Ray Moore, Regional Director, Properties at Delta Air Lines. “We are pleased to expand our relationship with HMSHost to deliver this proposition for our customers traveling to and from JFK.”

Stone Rose Bar & Grill at JFK reflects the Gerber Group brand's trademarks: cutting-edge design and innovative cocktails offered in an atmosphere of casual elegance. While sipping cocktails, travelers can also catch their favorite sporting event on one of the many flat screen TVs while dining on a wide variety of upscale fare. In addition to tasty bites such as Jumbo Shrimp Sugarcane Skewer, Roasted Chicken Buffalo Mozzarella salad, a Caprese Ficelle or Steak Flatbread sandwich, all of which can be followed by a Berries and Chocolate dessert, the menu includes breakfast selections of quiche, scrambles, bagels and more.

“The travelers are the big winners in this collaboration between Delta Air Lines, the Gerbers, and HMSHost,” said Joe Waller, Vice President, Business Development for HMSHost. Stone Rose is a terrific destination – and one few would expect to find in an airport. It is a great place to unwind before a flight and will undoubtedly make the traveler’s day better.”
